

Dr. Miles' Nervine Victorious.

Physical and Mental Exhaustion Gives Way to Vigorous Activity.

REV. W. T. HOUCK, the talented pastor of Grace U. B. church, Carlisle, Penn., writes September 28, 1895: "I always enjoyed good health until 1892, at which time my duties as a clergyman were of a peculiarly trying nature, subjecting me to several severe nervous shocks which together with overwork and anxiety, impaired my general health and nervous system. Indeed I was in such a condition that the mere sight of a large congregation so wearied me that I would require a day or more for me to recover from the exhaustion. It afforded me great pleasure to say that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Restorative Tonic have done me untold good. I preached three times yesterday and I feel as fresh and vigorous this morning as I ever felt in my life, thanks to your remedies. Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nervous sent free to all applicants. DR. Entered at the Seymour, Indiana, Postoffice as Second-class Matter.

For Congressman Fourth District,

MAJOR CHAS. W. LEE,
Of Switzerland County.

NEBRASKA farmers are too busy paying mortgages to go to hear Mr. Bryan explain why they can not pay their debts till the silver standard obtains.

If half the prospectors who are preparing to enter the Klondike fields get the wealth they now dream about, this country will be rolling in wealth in a few months.

Some newspaper correspondents are very much alarmed about Indiana's state house. If we accept their statements, Governor Mount and the state officers are in imminent danger of having the building come clattering about their heads at any time.

The rise in wheat will give the American farmers $90,000,000 more for this year's crop than they received for the last. Yet the free silverites attempt to make the farmers believe that neither wheat nor anything else can rise in price unless we have free silver.

Klondike is not heaven after it is reached, and Jordan is a hard road to travel. The chances are that twenty-four in every twenty-five who undertake the trip will wish but once that they had stayed at home, and that once will be all the time.—Inter Ocean.

The demand for treasury notes of small denominations continues to come from all parts of the country. This is a good indication especially as the applicants for the money state that they want the money for circulation and not to hoard it. It is another indication of prosperity.

Just try a 10c box of Cascarets, the finest liver and bowel regulator ever made.

MAJOR LEE TO-NIGHT.

Major Chas. W. Lee, republican candidate for congress will be given a reception at Armory Hall this evening at 7.30 o'clock. He is desirous of meeting as many voters as possible and all, regardless of party, are invited to attend and make the acquaintance of the Major. Republicans especially are urged to attend the reception.

The price of wheat at Indianapolis advanced yesterday to 73 cents, the highest price realized at this date in four years. The price on July 21, 1893, was 58 cents; on the same date in 1894 it was 46; in 1895 it was 65 and year ago it was 54 cents. The tendency is to still higher prices.

In another column today we reproduce the speech of Henri Watterson delivered at the national democrat state convention at Louisville a few days ago. It is a vigorous discussion of the recent free coinage craze which is rapidly dying out as a political issue. It will well repay you a careful reading.

The figures of the tax gatherers in Indiana place the tax valuation of $536,000,000 on farms and farm improvements. Against this there is a mortgage indebtedness of $64,000,000. Indiana farmers are not in such desperate condition and compared with men in other lines of business they may be regarded as fairly prosperous.

The Columbus Herald has lost some of its dead-sure feeling about Griffith's election and is now urging that he will need all the votes he can get. It is now urging democrats to vote and says their votes "are needed even if we were certain of having a thousand majority." A change has evidently come over democracy since some of Griffith's overzealous friends declared that he would be elected by democrat votes and by democrat votes alone.

The Evening News devotes twice as much space to the announcement of Browder's populist meeting that it does to the announcement of the democrat free silver meeting. In the course of the Browder announcement we find this paragraph:

"He will clearly define the difference between the People's party and other parties; and will abundantly demonstrate that the principles of the People's party furnish the only remedy for our national ills, and the only hope for the common people."

The News has often been accused of popocracy, but has always strenuously denied it and insisted that it is "the only recognized advocate of true democracy in Seymour."

POLITICAL BREVITIES.

A democratic paper demands "the elimination of the bolters." Who are the democratic bolters? The majority bolted from the democratic principles, and the sound-men refused to abide that act. Who are the real democratic bolters?—Rushville Republican.

Comrade Chas. W. Lee, the republican nominee for Congress, is said to be a soldier, a preacher, a farmer, a Mason, an Odd Fellow, a Knight of Pythias and a Red Man. He seems to have been something of a "jiner." And there is an excellent opportunity for him to "jine" Congress.—North Vernon Republican.

Editor Clark was at Indianapolis on Sunday, and informed a Sentinel reporter that it was his opinion that Mr. Griffith would be elected. This is important, since it has been noised about "the king" is not rendering any linen, and would not be greatly disappointed if Mr. Griffith should be beaten say about 2,500 votes.—Greensburg Review.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents and $1.00 per bottle at W. F. Peter's drug store.

Cascarets stimulate liver, kidneys, and bowels. Never sicken, weaken or gripe.

A DEAD ISSUE.

IS THE FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

So Says Henri Watterson—"The Free and Independent Coinage of Silver at the Ratio of 16 to 1, or Any Other Ratio, Is as Dead as the Institution of African Slavery."—Kentucky Democrats Applaud the Statement.

The state convention of the National Democratic party of Kentucky, held at Louisville last week, was one of the most remarkable conventions ever held by any party in the blue grass state. It was representative of the intelligence, conscience and patriotism of Kentucky's Democracy. Almost a thousand delegates were present. John G. Carlisle, Henry Watterson, General Buckner and Senator Lindsey were the great stars. Words rang out from them and others that will not be lost upon Kentucky and the Nation. Following is Mr. Watterson's speech in part:

The internal history of the Democratic party the last three decades has been marked by an almost unbroken struggle against the forces of reaction. Those forces arrayed themselves first upon the side of a visionary scheme to upset the three last constitutional amendments and thus to alter, if not reverse, the result of the war. He who opposed this visionary scheme was denounced as a traitor to the south and a radical in disguise. The scheme itself played directly into the hands of the radicals. It helped them to make their case against the loyalty of the south and to solidify the north. It confused and perverted Democratic counsels. It delayed the day of deliverance. But no sooner had it vanished from the scene, an exploded bomb, than it was succeeded by another device equally misleading.

This was a plan for paying the national debt in greenbacks and for flooding the country with an irredeemable paper currency. There being nothing back of it, however, except fallacy and noise, it speedily came to an end. Yet it held its own long enough to consolidate the Republicans, to divide the Democrats and to retard the coming of that better understanding between the sections of the Union which good men were so earnestly seeking. Whilst it lasted its votaries stigmatized every one who opposed it as a bloated bondholder and an enemy of the people. Finally, brought back to power, in spite of its reactionary elements, the Democratic party had to face the responsibilities of government. But the impracticables who had done their utmost to keep it out of power forever, and had greatly obstructed its progress, were neither extinguished nor subdued. They proceeded with their work of party dismemberment. They defeated the party's declared tariff policy. They defeated its conservative fiscal policy. They, finally organized, they devised a scheme, having all the evil advantages of the two which had preceded it, with something to spare. This was nothing less than the abandonment of the high ground which the Democratic party had always occupied in fighting the battles of the people and the concentration upon a lower level of all the disaffected elements of society.

Depended on Class Hatred.

It was something more than a new departure. It was to all intents and purposes a revolution. It took no account of the party's origin and nature, its orderly antecedents and deliberate character. Precipitating a national convention into a tumult, it proceeded in a frenzy of excitement to adopt a platform subversive of Democratic principles—constructed to meet the requirements of the silver protectionists on the one hand and the Populists on the other—and nominated a ticket which depended wholly for its election on the success of its appeals to class hatred. Then followed such a campaign as patriotic men may well wish never to see again. And to what purpose? To this simply—that the revolution arranged so carefully and forced with such a high hand was a failure; that the combination of Populism and free silver Republicanism and reactionary Democracy was not strong enough to carry the country in one word, that these over-sanguine gentlemen had perpetrated a dreadful miscalculation, splitting their party wide open to make a futile fusion with the winds, and, in point of fact, selling their birthright for a promised mess of pottage they failed to get. I leave it to any fair-minded intelligent Democrat to say whether this is not a truthful report of the proceedings down to the occasion which has brought us together.

For 30 years the men who headed this disastrous movement have been seeking ineffectually to deflect the party policy from the higher to the lower plane of political thought and action. During the 60s they were shouting "down with the constitutional amendments." During the 70s they were shouting "down with the loyal bondholders." In the saddle at last, it was "down with the courts," "down with the money of the people and the credit of the nation—and up with the red banner of repudiation and anarchy." I would do no man injustice. I would misstate the position of no set of men. But I submit that the whole warp and woof both of the organization and the argument of the Bryan-Sewall-Watson campaign of last year led to this conclusion, and nowhere else, and I contend that if there be not enough of enlightened conservatism in the people to interpose between the warring extremes of agrarianism and rapacity the strong arm of a democracy, unfettered and undefiled—still true to the spirit of the fathers and the traditions of the past—the country will presently be reduced to a condition where the good of the many is wholly subordinate to the will of the few, and it will matter little which of the extremes the few may in reality represent. As good Democrats—as men, who love their country and their party, and would fain do something to rescue the one from destruction and to preserve the credit and order of the other—we are here this day. We are here to appeal, it may be for the last time, to the serious sense and judgment of our fellow Democrats. We are here to protest against the vagaries of a body of incompetent leaders who have prostituted the name and the principles of the party, and who seem more than ever bent upon pursuing the course which has wrecked us, yet who can present no claim to the party confidence except such as may be allowed two defeats in hand, with the deluge yet to come.

Dead as a Political Issue.

As a political issue, the free and independent coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, or any other ratio, is as dead as the institution of African slavery. After the wretched experience the Democratic party has had of it there would be no thought of keeping it longer before the people, even to vitiate those who are responsible for the evil it has done us, except that back of it still stand the silver kings of the rotten boroughs and the stock jobbers of the senate of the United States. These represent millions of present and speculative wealth, supplying the needed sinews of war, and whilst the agitation lasts—no matter what the issue—these silver kings will be ready to serve the ends, sometimes political and sometimes pecuniary, of those who have it in their special keeping, and who never mean to let it go until forced to do so by public opinion. In God's name, I ask, shall the great historic Democratic party, with all its glorious achievements and noble possibilities, be scuttled and sunk by such men and such a sight of an open sea and safe harbor? It is with the rank and file of the party to say. To the rank and file, therefore, we turn with eager, but with confident hope. We ask them, in sober truth, as friends and brothers, to look about them, to stop and think, and, seeing whether we are being hurried by passion and error, to help us reverse the course before it is too late.

I am not unmindful of the circumstance that many honest Democrats have been honestly deluded into the belief that there is something in the free silver suggestion. Gentlemen, there is nothing, absolutely nothing. It is the most barren of barren idealities. I but quote from a speech made by myself some seven years ago in the senate, and which I can repeat with silver—if the creek and the ebb should overflow with silver—so that the farmer could come and fill his baskets and sacks with it and cart it off—it would yield him no permanent relief, but, under the theories and methods of taxation, both national and domestic, to which he tamely submits, it would quickly find its way back to where all his earnings and accretions go; that is, into the pockets of persons who are not his friends. Since I live on a farm and when the mortgage is lifted shall own a farm, I may claim to be something of a farmer myself, and I speak from the standpoint of immediate, practical, personal knowledge. Being his comrade, sharing with him every common interest, I certainly am equally his friend and neighbor and not his enemy; I could not do him an injury without doing myself an injury, and two things I assert, waiting on the event of my vindication: First, the iridescent dream of free silver coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, which means nothing but silver monometallism, will never materialize in this mighty land and never should; and, second, that it is to the farmer a blessing that it never will, for the reason that, whilst Mexicanizing our currency and building a Chinese wall around our commerce, it would reduce him to a condition far less better than that of the poor Latin America or the poor Sicilian peasants, who never saw a golden coin in all their days, but who eke out precarious lives on shimplasters and copper. Indeed, it can only be to shimplasters and copper, and not to gold and silver, that the free silver philosopher refers and means—where he means anything at all—when he talks about "bimetallism."

Free Silver Philosophy.

There is not one of these free silver philosophers who, if he be entirely sincere, can give any better reason for the faith that is in him than that by making money worthless, and abolishing credits, his would be the way to ruin all industry, business, public and private. I admit the force of the argument. It appeals to every man who is heedless of his country's honor and his own. It appeals to every bankrupt, it might be worth our while to consider it; though, even as a specific for debt—even as a promised relief to the insolvent—I would reject it as in the last degree misleading.

The statement who propose it play finance as children play blind-man's bluff, in their horrid travesty, the poor debtor being the blind man. They assume everything for their plan of deliverance. They take everything for granted in the public credulity. Yet it is a demonstrable proposition that, before they could get their machinery going—before they could set up their silvermills and perfect their ragged plans—before they could issue dollars and cents and cheap coins, they would come within easy reach of the mortgage-ridden farmer and the insolvent merchant—there would be no farm left to release, no stock of goods to be sold off at advance prices. The big credits would swallow up the little credits. The return of money borrowed of other lands on American securities would be at once demanded. The banks of international exchange would close on the local banks. The local banks would be forced to call in their loans and close their accounts, and most likely along with them, their doors. Long before the promised streams of free silver reached him, the farmer would be wiped out—the merchant would be wiped out—leaving only the adventurer, with nothing to lose, to tell the tale. Even he would in most cases end where he began, with nothing, or with worse than nothing—like the wretched debtor who, finding himself loaded down with that money of which it was commonly said that the more you had of it the worse off you were. In short, the remedy proposed by these visionary financiers and optimistic philosophers—these chasers of political and other rainbows—is a piece with the prescription of the quack doctor, "good to cure in 30 days," and consequently valueless to the patient doomed to death except to get relief in 30.

Neither Bankrupts Nor Swindlers.

Let us give thanks to God that we are not a nation of bankrupts. Neither are we a generation of swindlers. We claim to be a race of brave, upright and solvent men who mean to pay our honest debts, dollar for dollar, and will do so if permitted by those rampant leaders who have stolen the household of Democracy for their hare-brained excursions, and who, lured by siren voices and heedless of the volcano frowning above them, are sailing in fancied security over the treacherous waters of Vesuvius seas. From the beginning they were doomed to shipwreck. They are wanting in all the essential elements of success in life on land or sea.

Even in their own trade of professional politics they are rank failures. Where they are sincere they are deluded. Where they are loyal they are mistaken. Where they are disinterested—if the word has any place in their vocabulary—they are equally lacking in earnestness and composure. Intelligent and short-sighted—overflowing with excitement and misinformation—too often they are merely vain, selfish and vengeful. Men of this stamp never win in the long run, and never deserve to win. They would not know what to do with a substantial victory even if it were possible for them to achieve one. Across the brow of each of them is written the motto, "rule or ruin," and just beneath it the curse of Rouben, "Unstable as water thou shalt not excel."

Knowing then for what they are, no prudent man would commit any private affair of pith and moment into the custody of such attorneys; though it is not easy to conceive how they could separately, or as a body, handle the least of private affairs more disastrously than they have handled the affairs of the Democratic party. For, to change the figure somewhat, to fetch it home and adapt it to our native parts of speech, they have played a very loose and a very losing game; they have run a very devious and a very desperate race; they have left out of their betting book a dark horse, and an exceeding dark horse, but one that was never known to be left at the post; a dark horse they have not even mentioned, far less considered, in their calculations, but which they will have to reckon with, and this dark horse is the heart and brain, the conscience, the moral nature of the people of Kentucky.

For one, I am willing to trust my fate, for good or ill—to rest my case now, and through all time—with that heart, that brain, that conscience, that moral nature. I am not conscious of having committed any crime, unless it be a crime to love Kentucky and to place her fame and honor above every other consideration. I do not think that I have perpetrated any act, or written or uttered any word, which should cost me the loss of the confidence and respect of my fellow Democrats of Kentucky. I have ever been good enough to manifest toward me. I am ready to go to lay at their feet whatever of service I have done as their agent, whatever of success or failure I may have achieved in their cause. But my discharge must emanate from headquarters and come to me by authority. I will surrender my commission as a Democrat to nobody except the Democrats of Kentucky. No set of self-constituted leaders in their impotent blasphemy, arrogating to themselves the providence of God and consigning Democrats at least as good as themselves not merely to death, but to damnation, can drive me, or such as me, out of the Democratic party. It is fit that men should talk about the gallitine who carry in their hearts the spirit of Robespierre, Danton and Marat. It is fit that they should hear nothing higher, purer, wiser than the gibbet and the stake from men who have no other conception of party warfare than personal defamation, insult and menace, nor of government, except as an alms-house for mendacious politicians.

Such men are not my peers; they cannot try me; they cannot convict me; they cannot scare me, and, above all, they cannot cast me out. I repeat, nobody can do these things except the Democrats of Kentucky, and they only at the ballotbox.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Benjamin Thomas Falls From the Sixth Story of a Skyscraper.

KILLED ON THE PANHANDLE.

Murderer Payne Appeals to Indiana Friends to Save His Neck—Farmers Plundered by Circus Sharpers—Elkhart County's Wheat Crop—Rev. Hartwell a Hopeless Mental Wreck.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 22.—Benjamin Thomas, who had charge of the freight elevator in the 12-story Stevenson block, fell from the sixth story last night to the basement and was killed. An insurance firm was moving into the block and the elevator car was crowded with books, papers and office furniture. It is supposed something fell and Thomas in trying to catch it fell between the machine and the floor. His legs were crushed and the door of the elevator broken. The machine did not stop and Thomas fell to the basement. When found he was buried under a pile of books and papers.

DALTON AND HOLSAPPLE.

Two Noted Whitecapers Released From the Indiana Reformatory. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., July 22.—James Dalton and George Holsapple have been released from the Indiana reformatory. This recalls a crime committed in 1893 that startled southern Indiana. Elijah Dalton and his wife lived near Blue river and their family affairs were not the most harmonious. He was 70 years old and she in the prime of life. One night a number of men appeared at the Dalton home, took the woman from her bed, stripped her to the waist, tied her to a tree and numerically whipped her with hickory whips. During the outrage her husband stood by and offered no interference. At first it was thought the assailants would escape, but one day Arthur Barnett confessed, giving the names of the party, which resulted in Elijah Dalton, James Dalton and George Holsapple being sentenced to five years each, E. M. Boking to three years and Arthur Barnett to two years. Elijah Dalton died after serving two years.

APPEALS TO INDIANA FRIENDS.

Patrick Payne to Hang For Wife Murder Tomorrow Unless Rescued. LAPORTE, Ind., July 22.—Patrick Payne, recently a resident of Albion, this county, now under sentence of death for the murder of his wife at Monroe, La., has appealed to friends here to intercede with the governor of Louisiana for commutation of sentence to imprisonment for life. His wife was formerly Miss Della Topcock of Westville. Unless rescued Payne will hang tomorrow. The condemned man was a telegraph operator and well known on the Monon road.

WORKED THE SHELL GAME.

Farmers Plundered by Sharpers Following a Circus. CLOVERDALE, Ind., July 22.—A circus which exhibited here was accompanied by a gang of sharpers who worked many confidence schemes. One farmer lost $72 on a shell game, another $20, while others suffered the loss of smaller amounts. Jerry Devore, a wealthy farmer, was swindled out of $315 by the gang while the circus was at Gosport. It is said to be his fourth experience, the first time losing $25, the second $80 and the third $50.

Hopeless Mental Wreck.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind., July 22.—Reports have been in circulation for some time that Rev. J. H. Harwell, the forger, who was declared insane, had been dismissed from the Atlanta (Ga.) asylum and was preaching again. A prominent citizen of this place has just received a letter stating that the reports are false and that Harwell is still in the asylum, a complete mental wreck, without hopes of recovery. He has a well developed case of perosis.

Killed on the Panhandle.

REDFEY, Ind., July 22.—Jefferson Lacey, 37 years old, was run down by a Panhandle freight here and instantly killed. The top of his head was mashed to a pulp and his right foot cut off at the ankle. He had been drinking, and it is thought, while under the influence of liquor, wandered on the track and went to sleep.

Crushed by a Lumber Pole.

WARSAW, Ind., July 22.—Dave Peterson, a prominent citizen of this place, sustained injuries yesterday which will probably prove fatal. While walking through his lumberyard a huge pile of lumber fell on him, completely burying him. He is in a precarious condition with but little hope of his recovery.

Great Berry Crop.

RUSSIAVILLE, Ind., July 22.—The greatest berry crop known in years is being harvested here. There are more than 20 fruit farms in this vicinity. The yield of berries is as follows: Strawberries, 2,000 bushels; raspberries, 1,500; blackberries, 5,000. Over $12,000 will be distributed here on account of berries alone.

Elkhart County Wheat Crop.

BETTSVILLE, Ind., July 22.—The new wheat crop is being threshed and the yield is far superior to that of last year and the quality is excellent. In most localities it is averaging from 30 to 40 bushels to the acre. Very little wheat is being sold, farmers holding it for higher prices.

Filled His Back With Bird Shot.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 22.—In a dispute over a board bill of $1, James Corbin shot Frank Allen in the back with a charge of bird shot, inflicting serious injuries.

Overcome by Heat.

HOPWELL, Ind., July 22.—While putting hay in a mow, William Willis was probably fatally overcome by heat.

STREET FAIR.

Seymour Merchants are Preparing for a Successful Exhibition.

For some time several of our merchants have been urging the desirability of holding a street fair this year. Last night the matter assumed definite shape when several of our most prominent citizens assembled at Armory hall where the feasibility of such a demonstration was discussed. So heartily was the project endorsed that the meeting was called to order and the following officers were elected:

President, T. S. Blish; vice president, Dr. Graessle; secretary, G. A. Clark; treasurer, Phil J. Pettig.

The president then appointed the following committees:

Executive committee: T. S. Blish, H. M. Schwing, J. F. Shiel, W. L. Johnson, Henry Price.

Amusement committee: Dr. Graessle, Alpha Cox, Geo. Ensenberger, J. F. Shiel, W. E. Gerrish.

Advertising committee: W. L. Johnson, Simon Strauss, Henry Price.

With these energetic citizens in command the success of the enterprise is assured.

BRICK STREET WORK.

Contractors and Teamsters Reach an Agreement—Work Resumed.

Last night fifteen of the teamsters reached an agreement with the contractors by which they went to work this morning hauling gravel from Schneck's bar for 42 cents, the contractors furnishing the gravel. Some concessions were made on both sides in order to reach the agreement. A few of the men are still holding out for their price but the work is progressing rapidly today on Chestnut street where it was stopped a week ago. Most of the teams are hauling a yard a half or more at a load and they can make four loads per day. At noon two sets of men were put to work making the concrete for foundation for the bricks and are pushing the work along rapidly. The end of the work on these blocks is now in sight and the work on the remaining blocks will be pushed rapidly.

Seymour Man's Plan Appreciated.

In an extended account of the Macabees now meeting in that city, the Port Huron (Mich.) Daily Times speaks very commendably of the work of Mr. W. E. Brown of this place. It says:

"Supreme Chaplain W. E. Brown, of Seymour, Indiana, is a practical kind of a man. He believes in letting his light shine, and apropos to that belief he has printed on his card the cost of joining the order; the membership in the country and in Indiana, also the death and disability benefits paid. On the opposite side of his card is the table of rates of the Supreme Tent and the Great Camp of Indiana. Surely this is a good scheme. Chaplain Brown's practical way of getting at the root of the tree and booming the order is worthy of emulation."

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; and a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: "The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford."

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

A useful object for those who advocate governmental ownership of railroads and so forth is being worked in South Africa. There the government owns the railroads. It costs six cents a mile to ride there, against the average two cents a mile in this country. The cheapest freight rate is two cents per ton per mile against eight-tenths of a cent per ton in the United States. The first class coaches on this railroad run by the government are dirty and dingy and upholstered in leather. The second class coaches, of course, are worse, while third class are alternately used for human beings and cattle. The rate of speed accomplished by this railroad is not of a character to make the passenger dizzy. It is only eighteen miles an hour. It is governmental ownership, however, and that's the kind the socialists advocate.—Times Star.

JUDGE HORD'S PICTURE GALLERY.

Now Contains the Picture of Our Own Judge Applewhite.

Judge Ralph Applewhite, of Jackson county passed here yesterday morning to Madison, and back in the evening. The judge was one of the pioneers of Jackson county, and has resided nearly all his life at Brownstown, but now lives at Seymour. Monday, July 19, he passed his 71st milestone, and is still hale and hearty. He is the father of James F. Applewhite, who was one of the recent democratic candidates for the congressional nomination.

Judge Applewhite was elected probate judge for the circuit composed of the counties of Jackson, Lawrence, Jennings and Bartholomew in 1860, and served until 1862, when he resigned the judgeship and enlisted in the army. Recently Judge Hord undertook to gather up a collection of the pictures of the various judges who had presided over the different judicial circuits of which this county had formed a part since the first organization of our courts. These portraits are to be in large frames and uniform sizes. Judge Applewhite, in compliance with his request, yesterday sent his portrait in a large frame to Judge Hord.—Columbus Times.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with La Grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Free trial bottles at W. F. Peter's drug store.

A Motto for the Athletic Summer Girl.

The girl or woman who intends to profit by her summer vacation or one or many weeks will adopt for her motto the two monosyllables "Go slow"; and if she is very judicious she will adjust herself to the change of air, water and diet, before exercising at all. Forty-eight hours of complete rest is an excellent preparation for the first row or mountain tramp. Over exertion on walking is as dangerous as from riding or rowing, and should be followed by a rest and the utmost relaxation.

Here's a last word of advice to the athletic "summer girl" of '97. "Pack your common sense with your sporting-goods, and carve your motto 'Go slow' on the handlebars of your wheel, on the handle of your racket, the pommel of your saddle, on your fishing-rod and rifle, on your oars, and last of all, on your conscience; for it is every woman's duty to keep well and strong during her vacation, for the happiness of her friends as well as of herself.—From "Home Remedies for Over-Exertion," in Demorest's Magazine for August.

PARIS, July 22.—The Japanese minister here denies that the Japanese government Japan and the United States are strained and says: "We wish to avoid war with the United States. ### Women Read Advertisements.

It is claimed, says the Philadelphia Press, that the women are the only readers of advertisements. In measure this is true, and necessarily so, for women are the larger purchasers for the household and spend most of the money that is earned by business, professional and working men.

Even in the larger transactions it will probably surprise dealers to learn how influential a voice women have. The purchase of a home is almost invariably determined by the women of the household, and in nine cases out of ten their information as to the situation and desirability of a purchase is gained from the newspapers.

And every furniture dealer, dry goods dealer, grocer, and keeper of any sort of a store knows that he must appeal to the women if he wishes to sell his goods. One of the largest elements in the success of one of the greatest merchants in the world today is the fact that he knows how to appeal attractively through the advertisement to the woman.—Fourth Estate.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain passing it or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold at druggists price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention the Seymour Republican, and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee its genuineness.

WILL SOON BE LAW

Vote Will Be Taken on Tariff Not Later Than Tomorrow.

SPIRITLESS DEBATE IN SENATE

Abandonment of the Stamp Tax on Bonds and Stocks Criticized—Civil Service Examination For Supervising Architect of the Treasury—McKinley Presented With a Monster Watermelon.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The senate concluded the formal reading of the tariff conference report late yesterday. The debate was spiritless in the main. Early in the day Mr. Jones of Arkansas made a contest against the conference committee on the ground that it had exceeded its authority in so amending the paragraph relating to printing paper as to place a retaliatory duty against the countries paying an export bounty on woodpulp. His point of order was debated at much length and finally overruled by Vice President Hobart. This removed the only obstacle thus far encountered by the report. The reciprocity amendment and the abandonment of the stamp tax on bonds and stocks developed much criticism.

When the senate adjourned the understanding was general that the final vote will be taken on the conference report on the tariff bill not later than tomorrow, but there was no formal agreement to this effect.

Both Senators Jones and White, who have been leading the opposition to the bill on behalf of the Democrats, expressed the opinion that the vote would not be postponed beyond this time. Senator Allison also stated that while he still considered a vote possible today he felt very confident that it would not be postponed beyond tomorrow. In which event final adjournment is generally predicted for Saturday.

FROM GEORGIA.

President McKinley Presented With a Monster Watermelon.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—President McKinley was the recipient of a unique compliment in the shape of a large Georgia watermelon. Several Georgia congressmen accompanied by several ladies and W. H. Mitchell of Atlanta made the presentation. The melon was about two and one-half feet long and measured six feet in circumference. It was packed in a golden hamper, wrapped in white silk ribbon, on one end of which was the flag of the United States and on the other the arms of the state of Georgia. It weighed 78 pounds.

Representative Livingston made the presentation speech. In doing so he referred to the old adage about the Greeks bearing gifts and assured the president that, when opened, no office-seeking enemy would emerge. The president made a happy response saying among other things that he was especially gratified by the assurances that it contained no office-seeker.

SUPERVISING ARCHITECT.

Civil Service Examination Will Be Held to Fill Vacancy.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The civil service commission announces a competitive examination to fill the vacancy in the position of supervising architect of the treasury. The salary of this position is $4,500 per annum and it is hoped that architects of high attainments and reputation may be induced to enter the competition. Those who enter the competition will be required to submit statements relative to their training, education and technical experience. Drawings or sketch plans, specifications and photographs or other suitable illustrations of buildings designed by them as architects or constructed under their supervision and other information relating to such buildings of which competitors will be advised upon receipt of the commission. A thesis relative to designing and construction and a thesis relative to office administrations. The examination will take place Sept. 10.

Cuban Meeting.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The labor organizations of the district held a mass meeting at Typographical temple last night to discuss the Cuban question. The speakers were Corporal Tanner, Colonel Hinton, Samuel Gompers and others. Resolutions were unanimously adopted demanding the immediate recognition of the Cuban independence and denouncing the scheme to pay Spain a war indemnity.

Trade Restricted to American Vessels.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The rush of miners' supplies and goods to the Alaska gold fields is expected at the treasury department to give increased employment to American vessels on the Pacific coast. Trade between the United States and Alaska is restricted by a law to American vessels and the department has no authority to make any exceptions or grant any privileges to foreign vessels.

Secretary Sherman.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—It is said at the state department that Secretary Sherman has fully recovered from his recent indisposition and that he would be at the department was there any matters demanding his personal attention.

Deafened a Rehearing.

BOSTON, July 22.—The United States circuit court of appeals has denied the petition of the appellant in the case of the First National bank of Concord, appellant, vs. Edward F. Hawkins, receiver of the Indianapolis National bank for a rehearing. This court some time ago affirmed a judgment of $11,646, for the plaintiff, Hawkins, in the original case, being the amount of an assessment upon stock which the Concord bank held in the defunct National bank when the latter failed.

SEVEN KILLED.

Horrible Results of an Explosion in a Firearm Factory.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 22.—An appalling accident occurred yesterday in the shell-loading department of the Winchester Repeating Firearms company shops. Without an instant's warning six human beings lost their lives by an explosion and another victim died soon afterward at the hospital. A score of others were more or less seriously injured, but no further fatalities are anticipated.

More than 150 men and women are employed in the loading department and that more fatalities did not result from the explosion is almost miraculous.

The hundreds of people who gathered about the gates immediately after the explosion witnessed a gruesome sight. Six dead bodies, blackened with powder and frightfully mangled almost beyond recognition, were lying on the floor. Nearly two men were writhing in agony and all about them were running with their faces and arms bleeding from shot wounds, unmindful of their own injuries, but trying to assist the injured and quell the confusion. Owing to the number of girls who were taken out in a fainting condition, it was believed that many of them were seriously injured and there was a great feeling of relief when it was found that in most cases they were unharmed.

DEFIED THE AUTHORITIES.

Girls in the Missouri Industrial Home Defy the Officials.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., July 22.—Thirteen girls in the State Industrial Home for Girls, defied the authorities of the institution and a riot ensued. When the girls were ordered to march from Marquette cottage to the schoolroom they revolted, under the leadership of an incorrigible named Frye from St. Joseph, who asserted that it was too hot to study. Arming themselves with chairs, the girls defied the women officials and when Watchman Robert Robinson and Gardener Smith were called in a general fight with chairs ensued.

The men and several of the girls were painfully bruised. In the meantime the local police had been telephoned for, and the appearance of the bluecoats put the girls to flight. Several jumped from windows in their efforts to escape, but all were captured and locked up in the dark cells of the institution. The real cause of the trouble is said to have been whisky, which is supposed to have been smuggled in by plumbers working in the building.

WAITING FOR NEWS.

Word From Andrew's Polar Balloon Expected Soon.

LONDON, July 22.—There seems to be reason to believe that news will be received from Andrew and his polar balloon within a day or two. J. Scott Keltie, the secretary of the Royal Geographical society, says: "The balloon ought to make 480 miles a day, and unless Andrew stops, he should be heard of within 24 hours."

"News of success or failure may be made known first by carrier pigeons, but the Royal Geographical society will hear immediately by telegraph. If Andrew lands where it is possible to use a wire."

BOAT CAPSIZED.

Two Sisters and Their Escort Drowned at a Picnic.

SALEM, O., July 22.—Miss Josie Phillips, aged 22, and Miss Mary Phillips, aged 20, daughters of Albert Phillips of this city, and Isaac Masters, aged 23, son of Joseph Masters of Winona, were drowned by the capsizing of a boat in which they were rowing at a Friends' picnic held at Shelton's grove, a pleasure resort four miles southeast of here. It was several hours before the bodies were recovered.

Buggies Collide With Fatal Results.

MT. STERLING, O., July 22.—Sumner Redding is dead and Walter Wilson, his companion has a fractured skull, the result of a collision. They were racing with another buggy near here, when, meeting with a third buggy, the three collided with terrible force. The horse of the third rig was so badly hurt that it had to be killed. Redding's buggy was smashed to kindling wood and he struck the hard earth with terrible force.

Condemned to Death.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 22.—Privates A. Feeney, G. Sacray, E. Lemel, P. Molloy, W. Huseman, A. Shanks, J. H. Wyman and C. K. Smith of Company G, Louisville Legion, have been put in jail as the result of a court martial which tried them for breaches of military discipline. This consisted in agreeing to keep away from drills because their lieutenant was disciplined on the recent outing to Nashville.

Heard His Funeral March Played.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 22.—Colonel H. H. Baudouin requested P. J. Breinig, founder of the band here, to compose a funeral march to be played at the former's funeral. After completing his composition Breinig took his band and serenaded the colonel by playing the march in front of his residence. The colonel thanked him, took the music and filed it away for the occasion for which it was composed.

Steel Works Resume.

MUNCIE, Ind., July 22.—The Midland steel works resumed operations yesterday. When the employees, 400 in number, reported for work they found notices posted that common laborers would be reduced from 19 to 20 per cent. These men had been receiving $1.75 per day and all went to work at the reduction.

TROUBLE IS BREWING

Clash Liable to Come at the Allison Mines at Canonsburg.

PREPARED FOR AN OUTBREAK

Sheriff Has Three Hundred Deputies Sworn In and Armed in Washington County, Pa.—Fifty Miners Seize and Hold a Freight Train For Five Hours. Vote to Continue the Strike.

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—Trouble and much of it seems to be in store at the Allison mine, three miles west of Canonsburg. The men want to go to work, but are afraid. They fear an overt invasion of the strikers and do not want to be targets for a mob that is liable at any moment to lose control of itself. Last night everything was quiet about the mines and the citizens of Canonsburg were awaiting the arrival of the invaders. The strikers began their march to Canonsburg this morning from Bridgeville. They started with about 600 men and expect to be reinforced with about the same number en route. The men start with several days' rations and expect to watch the offending mines for several days. Yesterday a number of men going to the Allison mine were stopped by the committee of strikers. Many of them did not go to work. J. H. V. Cook said the names of the strikers would be procured, and they would all be arrested for intimidating employees.

Sheriff Ready to Do Business. Sheriff Vernon Clark of Washington county is fully prepared for any array of marching strikers that may invade his domain. He has nearly 300 deputies sworn in, who are available at any time. From the most reliable information it was learned that they are all ready with the requisite number of firearms and are prepared to do business.

The sheriff is on the ground in person and if there is a false movement made on the part of any of the strikers, drastic measures will be resorted to. The Allison mine has shut down, in apparent anticipation of trouble. The expected meeting of the board of arbitration did not take place last night, the western members not reaching the city. As soon as they arrive, arrangements will be made for a general meeting of operators.

The situation among the strikers in this district is practically unchanged.

CAPTURE A TRAIN.

Illinois Miners Seize a Freight Train and Hold It Five Hours.

PHOENIA, Ill., July 22.—Fifty striking miners at Farmington seized a Burlington freight train yesterday demanding that it carry them to Dunfermline, where they intended to call out 350 miners at work, their wages having been increased 3 per cent. They refused to pay or get off and held the train till the conductor cut off the engine and ran to Canton, returning with the sheriff and state attorney. They argued with the men and the latter finally abandoned the train after holding it five hours. The Phoenia county miners are threatening to march across the country to Dunfermline to force the men out. The managers of the mines there say the men want to keep at work and are preparing for trouble.

Vote to Continue the Strike.

COLLINSVILLE, Ill., July 22.—About 125 of the 450 miners who are on strike here held a meeting yesterday afternoon to determine whether they should continue the strike or accept the advance offered them by the operators and return to work. They decided by a vote of 83 to 43 to continue the strike. The situation, however, remains practically unchanged. The miners as a whole are seriously divided, as was shown by the fact that only 125 out of a total of 450 being present. The married men wish to resume labor, but the single men favor the strike.

Warned Not to Attend Debs' Meeting.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., July 22.—Eugene

There is no prettier sight in the world than that of a healthy, happy mother at play with her robust and rollicking baby. It is a sight entirely too infrequent. Too often the baby is puny and peevish and the mother sickly, fretful and nervous. The woman who neglects to take proper care of herself and who therefore suffers from weakness and disease of the organs of womanhood cannot be healthy and amiable. Her children will be puny and ailing and there is no reason why every woman should not be the healthy, happy mother of robust and playful children if she will take the proper care of herself. Proper care means, first of all, proper medicine for her ailments.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will make any woman strong and well in womanly way. It cures all weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. It prepares a woman for motherhood. It insures the health of the baby. It makes parturition easy and nearly painless. Over 90,000 women have testified to its virtues, in writing. Druggists sell it and have no substitute "just as good." The druggist who tries to force something else upon you is not an honest man. He is trifling with your life and happiness for the sake of a greater profit to himself.

Mrs. F. R. Forney, of Cairns, Keyapaha, Co., Neb., writes: "I write you again concerning my daughter, Mrs. D. Billings. She has taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' She thinks the medicines did her a world of good. She was confined the 15th of February. Was sick about three hours and more as was her daughter. She got along nicely afterward. She says she never felt so well. She looks well and her complexion is clear."

The modern business world won't stand still or loiter to wait for the man who suffers from headaches, biliousness and dyspepsia, caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Of druggists.

V. Deas addressed 400 miners at Watson last evening, 300 of them marching there from Monongah, a distance of four miles. In his speech he took pains to denounce the reports sent to various papers that he was discouraged. The 100 men from New England that attended expect to lose their jobs today as several of them were warned by one of the superintendents not to attend the meeting.

Baltimore and Ohio Confiscating Coal. FAIRMONT, W. Va., July 22.—The most important development of the past 24 hours was the embargo laid by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad on all West Virginia coal. Orders were issued to hold all coal at junction points as the railroad wanted to keep a 10-day supply always on hand. Sensational publications have frightened the roads.

Encouraging News.

COLUMBUS, O., July 22.—President Ratchford has received a telegram from Organizers Diller and Weber at Montgomery, W. Va., stating that the miners at 15 mines in that district at a mass meeting had decided to join the strikers and would quit work at once.

MRS. LOVEY ALDRICH DEAD.

Only Six Revolutionary Widows Now Living.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 22.—Mrs. Lovey Aldrich, one of the seven surviving widows of the Revolutionary soldiers who fought in the war of 1776, is dead. Mrs. Aldrich was born at San Bornton, N. H., March 29, 1800, and was consequently in her 98th year at the time of her death.

Accepted With Reservations.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 22.—The sultan has issued an irade sanctioning the settlement of the frontier question in accordance with the wishes of the powers. The sultan's irade appears to accept the frontier line fixed by the military attaches of the powers with reservations, which probably means that there will be further delays.

STORIES OF GOLD.

Reassembling Unattila Arrives With $200,000 Worth of Alaskan Treasure.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—The steamship Unattila which has just arrived from Puget Sound ports brought down almost $200,000 worth of Alaskan gold, of which $136,000 was in gold dust, from Seattle, consigned to Wells Fargo & Co. There were several other shipments of gold in sacks, some of which was shipped direct from Juneau; and advices from that place are to the effect that at least $750,000 worth of dust was waiting shipment at various Alaskan stations.

Among the sensational advices received was one from St. Michael's to the effect that over $4,000,000 in gold dust, which had not been included with the fortunes brought here by miners, will be shipped through Wells Fargo & Co.; other lucky miners having reached the island since the departure of the Excelsior and Portland who have secured greater fortunes individually than those whose stories have already been told.

Although the capacity of the steamer Portland, which sailed today for St. Michaels, and the Excelsior, which sails on the 28th, is limited to about 110 passengers, over 1,000 applications have been made for berths.

Gold In Missouri.

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 22.—A gold discovery on the banks of Dry Fork creek near New Florence in Montgomery county, Mo., is announced by Dr. G. A. Broadhead, geologist at the State university. M. A. Bibb, the discoverer has sent several consignments of quartz to Dr. Broadhead, and assays by the latter have proved the genuineness of the find. Dr. Broadhead will visit Montgomery county to inspect the vein.

WAS STUNG TO DEATH.

Bees Attack Two Boys and One Falls Dead Near Home.

HENDERSON, Ky., July 22.—While John and Theodore Richards, aged respectively 7 and 9 years, sons of a farmer near Frog Island, were in the woods searching for stray cows, they discovered a large beehive. They attempted to take the honey and the bees swarmed over their bodies. The youngest boy, John, fell exhausted when in sight of home and he was dead before succor arrived. Theodore, still covered with bees, managed to reach home, but it is doubtful whether he can recover, his head and face having swelled to enormous proportions.

GOLD DEMOCRATS.

National Committee Will Assist in Electing Congressmen.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The executive committee of the National Democratic party met yesterday in this city, but there was not a full attendance and the members present waited some time to see if more would not come. After a wait they went to work as they were. At the close of the meeting Chairman Bynum said that after a discussion of the matter of assisting the states of Ohio, Kentucky and Iowa in their campaign this fall it was finally decided to assist the states campaign committees with prominent speakers of national reputation.

DYNAMITED A BRIDGE.

Disabled Officers and Privates Leaving For Spain.

HAVANA, July 22.—The insurgents have destroyed with dynamite the fine railroad bridge near Madruga in the province of Havana.

Fifty-six officers and 1,183 privates, who were incapacitated for duty by reason of illness or wounds, have departed for Spain. Members of the Red Cross society distributed money and clothing among them prior to their departure.

Was Stung to Death.

Bees Attack Two Boys and One Falls Dead Near Home.

HENDERSON, Ky., July 22.—While John and Theodore Richards, aged respectively 7 and 9 years, sons of a farmer near Frog Island, were in the woods searching for stray cows, they discovered a large beehive. They attempted to take the honey and the bees swarmed over their bodies. The youngest boy, John, fell exhausted when in sight of home and he was dead before succor arrived. Theodore, still covered with bees, managed to reach home, but it is doubtful whether he can recover, his head and face having swelled to enormous proportions.

GOLD DEMOCRATS.

National Committee Will Assist in Electing Congressmen.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The executive committee of the National Democratic party met yesterday in this city, but there was not a full attendance and the members present waited some time to see if more would not come. After a wait they went to work as they were. At the close of the meeting Chairman Bynum said that after a discussion of the matter of assisting the states of Ohio, Kentucky and Iowa in their campaign this fall it was finally decided to assist the states campaign committees with prominent speakers of national reputation.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Victorious.

Physical and Mental Exhaustion Gives Way to Vigorous Activity.

REV. W. T. HOUCK, the talented pastor of Grace U. B. church, Carlisle, Penn., writes September 28, 1895: "I always enjoyed good health until 1892, at which time my duties as a clergyman were of a peculiarly trying nature, subjecting me to several severe nervous shocks which together with overwork and anxiety, impaired my general health and nervous system. Indeed I was in such a condition that the mere sight of a large congregation so wearied me that I would require a day or more for me to recover from the exhaustion. It afforded me great pleasure to say that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Restorative Tonic have done me untold good. I preached three times yesterday and I feel as fresh and vigorous this Monday morning as I ever felt in my life, thanks to your remedies. Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nervous Free to all applicants. DR. For Congressman Fourth District,
MAJOR CHAS. W. LEE,
Of Switzerland County.

NEBRASKA farmers are too busy paying off mortgages to go to hear Mr. Bryan explain why they can not pay their debts till the silver standard obtains.

Ir half the prospectors who are preparing to enter the Klondike fields get the wealth they now dream about, this country will be rolling in wealth in a few months.

Some newspaper correspondents are very much alarmed about Indiana's state house. If we accept their statements, Governor Mount and the state officers are in imminent danger of having the building come clattering about their heads at any time.

The rise in wheat will give the American farmers $60,000,000 more for this year's crop than they received for the last. Yet the free silverists attempt to make the farmers believe that neither wheat nor anything else can rise in price unless we have free silver.

Klondike is not heaven after it is reached, and Jordan is a hard road to travel. The chances are that twenty-four in every twenty-five who undertake the trip will wish but once that they had stayed at home, and that once will be all the time.—Inter Ocean.

The demand for treasury notes of small denominations continues to come from all parts of the country. This is a good indication especially as the applicants for the money state that they want the money for circulation and not to hoard it. It is another indication of prosperity.

Just try a 10c box of Cascarets, the finest liver and bowel regulator ever made.

MAJOR LEE TO-NIGHT.

Major Chas. W. Lee, republican candidate for congress will be given a reception at Armory Hall this evening at 7.30 o'clock. He is desirous of meeting as many voters as possible and all, regardless of party, are invited to attend and make the acquaintance of the Major. Republicans especially are urged to attend the reception.

The price of wheat at Indianapolis advanced yesterday to 73 cents, the highest price realized at this date in four years. The price on July 21, 1893, was 58 cents; on the same date in 1894 it was 46; in 1895 it was 65 and year ago it was 54 cents. The tendency is to still higher prices.

In another column today we reproduce the speech of Henri Watterson delivered at the national democrat state convention at Louisville a few days ago. It is a vigorous discussion of the recent free coinage craze which is rapidly dying out as a political issue. It will well repay you a careful reading.

The figures of the tax gatherers in Indiana place the tax valuation of $536,000,000 on farms and farm improvements. Against this there is a mortgage indebtedness of $64,000,000. Indiana farmers are not in such desperate condition and compared with men in other lines of business they may be regarded as fairly prosperous.

The Columbus Herald has lost some of its dead-sure feeling about Griffith's election and is now urging that he will need all the votes he can get. It is now urging democrats to vote and says their votes "are needed even if we were certain of having a thousand majority." A change has evidently come over democracy since some of Griffith's over-zealous friends declared that he would be elected by democrat votes and by democrat votes alone.

The Evening News devotes twice as much space to the announcement of Browder's populist meeting that it does to the announcement of the democrat free silver meeting. In the course of the Browder announcement we find this paragraph:

"He will clearly define the difference between the People's party and other parties; and will abundantly demonstrate that the principles of the People's party furnish the only remedy for our national ills, and the only hope for the common people."

The News has often been accused of popocracy, but has always strenuously denied it and insisted that it is "the only recognized advocate of true democracy in Seymour."

POLITICAL BREVITIES.

A democratic paper demands "the elimination of the bolters." Who are the democratic bolters? The majority bolted from the democratic principles, and the sound-men refused to abide that act. Who are the real democratic bolters?—Rushville Republican.

Comrade Chas. W. Lee, the republican nominee for Congress, is said to be a soldier, a preacher, a farmer, a Mason, an Odd Fellow, a Knight of Pythias and a Red Man. He seems to have been something of a "jiner." And there is an excellent opportunity for him to "jine" Congress.—North Vernon Republican.

Editor Clark was at Indianapolis on Sunday, and informed a Sentinel reporter that it was his opinion that Mr. Griffith would be elected. This is important, since it has been noised about "the king" is not rending any linen, and would not be greatly disappointed if Mr. Griffith should be beaten after about 2,500 votes.—Greensburg Review.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cent and $1.00 per bottle at W. F. Peter's drug store.

Cascarets stimulate liver, kidneys, and bowels. Never sicken, weaken or gripe.

A DEAD ISSUE.

IS THE FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

So Says Henri Watterson—"The Free and Independent Coinage of Silver at the Ratio of 16 to 1, or Any Other Ratio, Is as Dead as the Institution of African Slavery"—Kentucky Democrats Applaud the Statement.

The state convention of the National Democratic party of Kentucky, held at Louisville last week, was one of the most remarkable conventions ever held by any party in the blue grass state. It was representative of the intelligence, conscience and patriotism of Kentucky's Democracy. Almost a thousand delegates were present. John G. Carlisle, Henry Watterson, General Backner and Senator Lindsey were the great stars. Words rang out from them and others that will not be lost upon Kentucky and the Nation. Following is Mr. Watterson's speech in part:

The internal history of the Democratic party the last three decades has been marked by an almost unbroken struggle against the forces of reaction. Those forces arrayed themselves first upon the side of a visionary scheme to upset the three last constitutional amendments and thus to alter, if not reverse, the result of the war. He who opposed this visionary scheme was denounced as a traitor to the south and a radical in disguise. The scheme itself played directly into the hands of the radicals. It helped them to make their case against the loyalty of the south and to solidify the north. It confused and perverted Democratic counsels. It delayed the day of deliverance. But no sooner had it vanished from the scene, an exploded bomb, than it was succeeded by another device equally misleading.

This was a plan for paying the national debt in greenbacks and for flooding the country with an irredeemable paper currency. There being nothing back of it, however, except fallacy and noise, it speedily came to an end. Yet it held its own long enough to consolidate the Republicans, to divide the Democrats and to retard the coming of that better understanding between the sections of the Union which good men were so earnestly seeking. Whilst it lasted its votaries stigmatized every one who opposed it as a bloated bondholder and an enemy of the people. Finally, brought lack to power, in spite of its reactionary elements, the Democratic party had to face the responsibilities of government. But the impracticables who had done their utmost to keep it out of power forever, and had greatly obstructed its progress, were not extinguished nor subdued. They proceeded with their work of party dismemberment. They defeated the party's declared policy. They deflected its conservative fiscal policy. Then, fully organized, they devised a scheme having all the evil advantages of the two which had preceded it, with something to spare. This was nothing less than the abandonment of the high ground which the Democratic party had always occupied in fighting the battles of the people and the concentration upon a lower level of all the disaffected elements of society.

Depended on Class Hatred.

It was something more than a new device. It was to all intents and purposes a revolution. It took no account of the party's origin and nature, its orderly antecedents and deliberate character. Precipitating a national convention into a tumult, it proceeded in a frenzy of excitement to adopt a platform subversive of Democratic principles—constructed upon the requirement of the silver protectionists on the one hand and the Populists on the other—and nominated a ticket which depended wholly for its election on the success of its appeals to class hatred. Then followed such a campaign as patriotic men may well wish never to see again. And to what purpose? To this simply—that the revolution arranged so carefully and forced with such a high hand was a failure; that the combination of Populism and free silver Republicanism and reactionary Democracy was not strong enough to carry the country; in one word, that these overbearing gentlemen had perpetrated a dreadful miscalculation, splitting their party wide open to make a futile fusion with the winds, and, in point of fact, selling their brightwits for a promised mess of pottage they failed to get. I leave it to any fair-minded intelligent Democrat to say whether this is not a truthful report of the proceedings down to the occasion which has brought us together.

For 30 years the men who headed this disastrous movement have been seeking ineffectually to deflect the party policy from the higher to the lower plane of political thought and action. During the 60s they were shouting "down with the constitutional amendments." During the 70s they were shouting "down with the bolted bondholders." In the saddle at last, it was "down with the courts of law—down with the money of the people and the credit of the nation—and up with the red banner of repudiation and anarchy."

I would do no man injustice. I would misstate the position of no set of men. But I submit that the whole warp and woof both of the organization and the argument of the Bryan-Seawall-Watson campaign of last year led to this conclusion, and nowhere else; and I contend that if there be not enough of enlightened conservatism in the people to interpose between the warring extremes of agrarianism and rapacity the strong arm of a democracy, untutored and untrained—still true to the spirit of the fathers and the traditions of the past—the country will presently be reduced to a condition where the good of the many is wholly subordinate to the will of the few, and it will matter little which of the extremes the few are in reality representing. As good Democrats—as men who love their country and their party, and would fain do something to rescue the one from destruction and to preserve the credit and order of the other—we are here this day. We are here to appeal, it may be for the last time, to the serious sense and judgment of our fellow Democrats. We are here to protest against the vagaries of a body of incompetent leaders, who have prostituted the name and the principles of the party, and who seem more than ever bent upon pursuing the course which has wrecked us, yet who can present no claim to the party confidence except such as may be allowed two defeats in hand, with the deluge yet to come.

Dead as a Political Issue.

As a political issue, the free and independent coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, or any other ratio, is as dead as the institution of African slavery. After the wretched experience the Democratic party has had of it there would be no thought of repeating it longer before the people, even to vindicate those who are responsible for the evil it has done us, except that back of it still stand the silver kings of the rotten boroughs and the stock jobbers of the senate of the United States. These represent millions of present and speculative wealth, supplying the needed sinews of war, and whilst the agitation lasts—no matter what comes of it or who suffers—it can be made to serve the ends, sometimes political and sometimes pecuniary, of those who have it in their special keeping, and who never mean to let it go until forced to do so by public opinion. In God's name, I ask, shall the great historic Democratic party, with all its glorious achievements and noble possibilities, be scuttled and sunk by such men and in actual sight of an open sea and safe harbor? It is with the rank and file of the party to say. To the rank and file, therefore, we turn with eager, but with confident hope. We ask, when, in sober truth, as friends and brothers, to look about them, to stop and think, and, seeing whether we are being hurried by passion and error, to help us reverse the course before it is too late.

I am not ungrateful of the circumstance that many honest Democrats have been honestly deluded into the belief that there is something in the free silver suggestion. Gentlemen, there is nothing, absolutely nothing. It is the most barren of barren idealities. I but quote from a speech made by myself some seven years ago when I said that, if the skies should rain silver—if the crooks and the covetous should overflow with silver—so that the farmer could come and fill his baskets and sacks with it and cart it off—it would yield him no permanent relief, but, under the theories and methods of taxation, both national and domestic, to which he tamely submits, it would quickly find its way back to where all his earnings and accretions go; that is, into the pockets of persons named by law to rob him. Since I live on a farm and the mortgage is lifted shall own a farm, I may claim to be something of a farmer myself, and I speak from the standpoint of immediate, practical, personal knowledge. Being his compatriot, sharing with him every common interest, I certainly sympathize with his neighbor and I wish his enemy. I could not do him an injury without doing myself an injury; and two things I assert, waiting on the event of my vindication: First, the iridescent dream of free silver coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, which means nothing but silver monometallism, will never materialize in this mighty land; and second, and that is by far the more important, that it is to the farmer a blessing that it never will, for the reason that, whilst Mexicanizing our currency and building a Chinese wall around our commerce, it would reduce him to a condition little better than that of the poor of Latin America or the poor Sicilian peasants, who never saw a golden coin in all their days, but who eke out precarious lives on shimplasters and copper, and not to gold and silver, but to the free silver philosopher refers and means—where he means anything at all—when he talks about "bimetallism."

Free Silver Philosophy.

There is not one of these free silver philosophers who, if he be entirely sincere, can give any better reason for the faith that is in him than that by making money worthless, and abolishing credits, his boasted theory will wipe out all indebtedness, public and private. I admit the force of the argument. It appeals to every man who is heartless of his country's honor and his own. It appeals to every bankrupt, it might be worth our while to consider it; though, even as a specific for debt—even as a promised relief to the insolvent—I would reject it as in the last degree misleading.

The statesmen who propose it play finance as blind men play blindfold, in their horrid travesty, the poor debtor being the blind man. They assume everything for their plan of deliverance. They take everything for granted in the public credulity. Yet it is a demonstrable proposition that, before they could get their machinery going—before they could set up their silvermills and perfect their ragtime money plan—before they could issue dollars plentiful enough and cheap enough to come within easy reach of the mortgaged-ridden farmer and the insolvent merchant—there would be no farm left to release, no stock of goods to be sold off at advance prices. The big credits would swallow up the little credits. The return of money borrowed of other hands on American securities would be at once demanded. The banks of international exchange would come back on the local banks. The local banks would be forced to call in their loans and close their accounts, and most likely along with them, their doors. Long before the promised streams of free silver reached him, the farmer would be wiped out—the merchant would be wiped out—leaving only the adventurer, with nothing to lose, to tell the tale. Even he would in most cases end where he began, with nothing, or with worse than nothing—like those who, during the war, found themselves loaded down with that money of which it was commonly said that the more you had of it the worse off you were. In short, the remedy proposed by these visionary financiers and optimistic philosophers—these chasers of rainbow rainbows—is a piece with the prescription of the quack doctor, "good to cure in 30 days," and consequently valueless to the patient doomed to death, except to get relief in 30.

Neither Bankrupts Nor Swindlers. Let us give thanks to God that we are not a nation of bankrupts. Neither are we a generation of swindlers. We claim to be a race of brave, upright and solvent men, who mean to pay our honest debts, dollar for dollar, and will do so if permitted by those rampant leaders who have stolen the household of Democracy for their braided excursions, and who, lured by siren voices and heedless of the volcano frowning above them, are sailing in fancied security over the treacherous waters of Vesuvius seas. From the beginning they were doomed to shipwreck. They are vanishing in all the essential elements of success in life on land or sea.

Even in their own trade of professional politics they are rank failures. Where they are sincere they are deluded. Where they are loyal they are mistaken. Where they are disinterested—if the word has any place in their vocabulary—they equally lack discernment and composure. Intolerant and misanthropic—often of men they are merely vain, selfish and vengeful. Men of this stamp never win in the long run, and never deserve to win. They would not know what to do with a substantial victory even if it were possible for them to achieve one. Across the brow of each of them is written the motto, "rule or ruin," and just beneath it the curse of Rouben, "Unstable as water thou shalt not excel."

Knowing them for what they are, no prudent man would commit any private affair of pith and moment into the custody of such attorneys; though it is not easy to condescend how they could separately, or as a body, handle the least of private affairs more disastrously than they have handled the affairs of the Democratic party. For, to change the figure somewhat, to fetch it home and adapt it to our native parts of speech, they have played a very loose and a very losing game; they have lost a very good and a very desperate race; they have left out of their betting books a dark horse, and an exceeding dark horse, but one that has never known to be left at the post; a dark horse they have not even mentioned, far less considered, in their calculations, but which they will have to reckon with; and this dark horse is the heart and brain, the conscience, the moral nature of the people of Kentucky.

For one, I am willing to cross my fate, for good or ill—to rest my case now, and through all time—with that heart, that brain, that conscience, that moral nature. I am not conscious of having committed any crime, unless it be a crime to love Kentucky and to place her fame and honor above every other consideration. I do not think that I have perpetrated any act, or written or uttered any word, which should cost me the loss of the confidence and respect of my fellow Democrats of Kentucky, have ever been good enough to manifest toward me. I am ready to go; to lay at their feet whatever of service I have done as their agent, whatever of success or failure I may have achieved in their cause. But my discharge must emanate from headquarters and come to me by authority. I will surrender my commission as a Democrat to nobody except the Democrats of Kentucky. No set of self-constituted leaders in their impotent blasphemy, arrogating to themselves the providence of God and consigning Democrats at least as good as themselves not merely to death, but to damnation, can drive me, or such as me, out of the Democratic party. It is fit that men should talk about the guillotine who carry in their hearts the spirit of Robespierre, Danton and Marat. It is fit that we should hear nothing higher, purer, wiser than the gibbet and the stake from men who have no other conception of party warfare than personal defamation, insult and menace, nor government, except as an almshouse for mendicant politicians. Such men are not my peers; they cannot try me; they cannot convict me; they cannot scare me, and, above all, they cannot cast me out. I repeat, nobody can do these things except the Democrats of Kentucky, and they only at the ballotbox.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Benjamin Thomas Falls From the Sixth Story of a Skyscraper.

KILLED ON THE PANHANDLE.

Murderer Payne Appeals to Indiana Friends to Save His Neck—Farmers Floundered by Circus Sharpers—Elkhart County's Wheat Crop—Rev. Hartwell a Hopeless Mental Wreck.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 22.—Benjamin Thomas, who had charge of the freight elevator in the 12-story Stevenson block, fell from the sixth story last night to the basement and was killed. An insurance firm was moving into the block and the elevator car was crowded with books, papers and office furniture. It is supposed something fell and Thomas in trying to catch it fell between the machine and the floor. His legs were crushed and the door of the elevator broken. The machine did not stop and Thomas fell to the basement. When found he was buried under a pile of books and papers.

DALTON AND HOLSAPPLE.

Two Noted Whitecapers Released From the Indiana Reformatory. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., July 22.—James Dalton and George Holsapple have been released from the Indiana reformatory. This recalls a crime committed in 1893 that startled southern Indiana. Elijah Dalton and his wife lived near Blue River and their family affairs were not the most harmonious. He was 70 years old and she in the prime of life. One night a number of men appeared at the Dalton home, took the woman from her bed, stripped her to the waist, tied her to a tree and unmercifully whipped her with hickory whips. During the outrage, her husband stood by and offered no interference. At first it was thought the assailants would escape, but one day Arthur Barnett confessed, giving the names of the party, which resulted in Elijah Dalton, James Dalton and George Holsapple being sentenced to five years each. E. M. Boring to three years and Arthur Barnett to two years. Elijah Dalton died after serving two years.

APPEALS TO INDIANA FRIENDS.

Patrick Payne to Hang For Wife Murder Tomorrow Unless Rescued. LAFORTE, Ind., July 22.—Patrick Payne, recently a resident of Albia, this county, now under sentence of death for the murder of his wife at Monroe, La., has appealed to friends here to intercede with the governor of Louisiana for commutation of sentence to imprisonment for life. His wife was formerly Miss Della Toppeck of Westville. Unless respited Payne will hang tomorrow. The condemned man was a telegraph operator and well known on the Monon road.

WORKED THE SHELL GAME.

Farmers Plundered by Sharpers Followed a Circus. CLOVERDALE, Ind., July 22.—A circus

which exhibited here was accompanied by a gang of sharpers who worked many confidence schemes. One farmer lost $72 on a shell game, another $20, while others suffered the loss of smaller amounts. Jerry Devore, a wealthy farmer, was swindled out of $315 by the gang while the circus was at Gosport. It is said to be his fourth experience, the first time losing $25, the second $80 and the third $80.

Hopeless Mental Wreck. CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind., July 22.—Reports have been in circulation for some time that Rev. J. H. Harwell, the forger, who was declared insane, had been dismissed from the Atlanta (Ga.) asylum and was preaching again. A prominent citizen of this place has just received a letter stating that the reports are false and that Harwell is still in the asylum, a complete mental wreck, without hopes of recovery. He has a well developed case of paresis.

Killed on the Panhandle. REDKEY, Ind., July 22.—Jefferson Lacey, 37 years old, was run down by a Panhandle freight here and instantly killed. The top of his head was mashed to a pulp and his right foot cut off at the ankle. He had been drinking, and it is thought, while under the influence of liquor, wandered on the track and went to sleep.

Crushed by a Lumber Pile. WARSAW, Ind., July 22.—Dave Peterson, a prominent citizen of this place, sustained injuries yesterday which will probably prove fatal. While walking through his lumberyard a huge pile of lumber fell on him, completely burying him. He is in a precarious condition with but little hope of his recovery.

Great Berry Crop. RUSSVILLE, Ind., July 22.—The greatest berry crop known in years is being harvested here. There are more than 20 fruit farms in this vicinity. The yield of berries is as follows: Strawberries, 2,000 bushels; raspberries, 1,500; blackberries, 5,000. Over $12,000 will be distributed here on account of berries alone.

Elkhart County Wheat Crop. ELKHART, Ind., July 22.—The new wheat crop is being threshed and the yield is far superior to that of last year and the quality is excellent. In most localities it is averaging from 30 to 40 bushels to the acre. Very little wheat is being sold, farmers holding it for higher prices.

Filled His Back With Bird Shot. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 22.—In a dispute over a board bill of $1, James Corbin shot Frank Allen in the back with a charge of bird shot, inflicting serious injuries.

Overcome by Heat. HOPKVELL, Ind., July 22.—While putting hay in a mow, William Willis was probably fatally overcome by heat.

STREET FAIR.

Seymour Merchants are Preparing for a Successful Exhibition.

For some time several of our merchants have been urging the desirability of holding a street fair this year. Last night the matter assumed definite shape when several of our most prominent citizens assembled at Armory hall where the feasibility of such a demonstration was discussed. So heartily was the project endorsed that the meeting was called to order and the following officers were elected:

President, T. S. Blish; vice president, Dr. Graessle; secretary, G. A. Clark; treasurer, Phil J. Fettig.

The president then appointed the following committees:

Executive committee: T. S. Blish, H. M. Schwing, J. F. Shiel, W. L. Johnson, Henry Price.

Amusement committee: Dr. Graessle, Alpha Cox, Geo. Ensenberger, J. F. Shiel, W. E. Gerrish.

Advertising committee: W. L. Johnson, Simon Strauss, Henry Price.

With these energetic citizens in command the success of the enterprise is assured.

BRICK STREET WORK.

Contractors and Teamsters Reach an Agreement—Work Resumed.

Last night fifteen of the teamsters reached an agreement with the contractors by which they went to work this morning hauling gravel from Schneck's bar for 42 cents, the contractors furnishing the gravel. Some concessions were made on both sides in order to reach the agreement. A few of the men are still holding out for their price but the work is progressing rapidly today on Chestnut street where it was stopped a week ago. Most of the teams are hauling a yard a half or more at a load and they can make four loads per day. At noon two sets of men were put to work making the concrete for foundation for the bricks and are pushing the work along rapidly. The end of the work on these blocks is now in sight and the work on the remaining blocks will be pushed rapidly.

Seymour Man's Plan Appreciated.

In an extended account of the Macabees now meeting in that city, the Port Huron (Mich.) Daily Times speaks very commendably of the work of Mr. W. E. Brown of this place. It says:

"Supreme Chaplain W. E. Brown, of Seymour, Indiana, is a practical kind of a man. He believes in letting his light shine, and apropos to that belief he has printed on his card the cost of joining the order; the membership in the country and in Indiana, also the death and disability benefits paid. On the opposite side of his card is the table of rates of the Supreme Tent and the Great Camp of Indiana. Surely this is a good scheme. Chaplain Brown's practical way of getting at the root of the tree and booming the order is worthy of emulation."

John P. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; and no more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John P. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

For the weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.
